January 2015

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Year Ahead: 2015

Happy New Year!

New Year, New Codes! Last fall we had a number of educational events surrounding the upcoming change to the energy and construction codes which took effect January 1. Please check the DOB website for the latest information here

Keeping with the momentum from last Fall, we have great winter and spring sessions in store and I want to share with you a few of the highlights happening in the chapter:

All-Day seminar is back! It will be held February 5th at Coned. The topic this year is focused on Healthcare including design, trends, and existing facility optimization and management. We will have speakers from some of the top facilities managers in our New York City hospitals. Seated is limited for this event. See below for more information.

Women in Engineering committee has been working hard over the holidays! Please check out our new web page here for upcoming WiE events. Great job Sandy Hwang and Hao Lou!

Due to the ASHRAE Winter Conference in Chicago this month, our monthly Chapter meeting will be held January 20. Please come out for Refrigeration night where we will learn about engineering applications and optimization utilizing modular chillers. A must attend for Designers!!

Annual ASHRAE Chapter Gala: For the 180 of you who attended the gala last year, many of you asked how the chapter could possibly top it next year. Well, Committee Chair and Board member Anthony Montalto is taking that challenge! Our Gala this year will be held at the famous Rainbow Room with the same great band from last year, Karen and The Sugar Daddy's! This year we will be honoring Mitchel Simpler of JB&B. Congratulation Mitch! For information on tickets and placing ads in the journal or becoming an event sponsor, please see our website or email ashraenyc@gmail.com

We hope to see you at our next meeting on January 20th!

Sincerely,
 Lorey Flick Roberts, PE, HBDP, LEED AP

MEMBER ARTICLES

Have you recently published an industry article? If so, we want to share your efforts and knowledge with the Chapter!

Please send links or pdf's of your articles to ashraenyc@gmail.com

This month we want to recognize our own Chapter Secretary, Jose Rodriguez, for his recent publication in Consulting Specifying Engineer Magazine. Click here to read his article on maximizing efficiency in existing heating plants.

IN MEMORY

Al Greenberg, a dedicated ASHRAE Chapter and Society Life member, passed away November 30, 2014 at 90 years old. Al was the ASHRAE New York Chapter President from 1969-1970 and was an active member serving on multiple committees for over four decades. Al was also a contributor to Society, authoring a number of technical articles and received a number of awards for his dedication to ASHRAE, including ASHRAE Fellow and the Medal for Distinguished Public Service.

Thank you for all you have done Al!

BUILDING ENERGY EXCHANGE OUTREACH SURVEY

Building Energy Exchange (formerly known as Green Light New York), is a non-profit based in New York City. They are an energy efficiency resource center, that focuses on providing the industry with technical trainings, programs, exhibits, research, and any resources that help accelerate the adoption of EE technologies.

BEEEx is pleased to announce their annual 2014 Efficiency Survey. This ten minute survey will give BEEEx a stronger sense of the work their community is involved in, the barriers you encounter, and which tools would be most useful to you. Information from this survey will directly impact which programs and projects BEEEx pursues in the upcoming year. Each survey submission will be entered into a Raffle for a Free iPad.

ENERGY MODELING TRAINING DISCOUNTS

Did you know building energy simulation courses are offered in New York City at a 70% discounted rate to eligible attendees*, made possible by funding from NYSERDA?

Each training qualifies for continuing education hours for architects, professional engineers, and LEED APs. Some sessions are also eligible for in-service training hours for NY State code officials.

These discounted sessions on existing building and new construction energy modeling are being offered in NYC this January and February by Karpman Consulting. For more information, including detailed course descriptions and registration, please check out their website here.
